Download and Installation

FinPricing is a capital market software system and solution that covers the entire transaction lifecycle for derivatives, securities and cash instruments, from trade capture, data service, performance monitoring and risk management, through to back office processing and reporting.

FinPricing is a securities and derivatives trading and risk management platform that covers the entire trade lifecycle for derivatives, securities and cash instruments, from trade capture, market data service, performance monitoring and risk management, through to back office processing and reporting

Comparing with other systems in the market that usually take months or years to set up, FinPricing allows users to access complex financial services right away after a simple downloading and installation.

- Click the Download button on the menu bar from any page and then click the Download Now link.

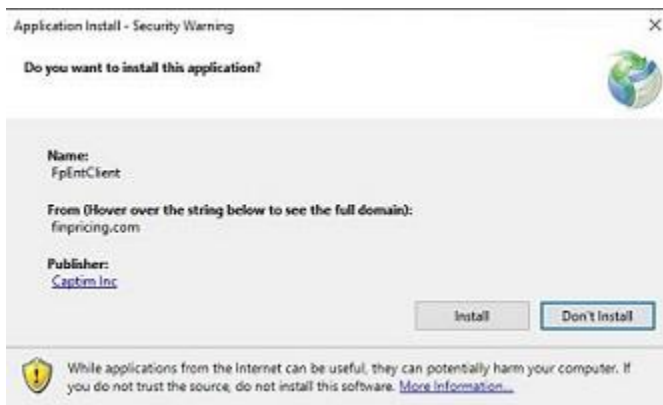

- The installer file "setup.exe" appears, most probably at the bottom left corner of your web browser.

- Click to open the "setup.exe" and installation starts
- Follow the on-screen instruction to finish.
